

Milena Bukal

Computer Science Student

milenabukal.me

msbukal@uwaterloo.ca

+1 (647) 887-9625

Skills

- Proficient in C/C++, Racket (Scheme) with experience in Java, Python, VB.NET
- Conversational level French, Serbian

Work Experience

Software Development Intern at Bioinformatics Solutions Inc.

Waterloo, Canada

January 2018 - present

- Currently working on testing and developing protein sequencing software in Python/Java
- Designing for easy use by researchers

Undergraduate Research Assistant at University of Waterloo

Waterloo, Canada

January 2018 - present

- Representing protein structures in 3D using Python Matplotlib
- Using a simple 20 sided icosahedron-based approach to match each of 20 amino acids

Language Exchange Tutor

Seoul, South Korea

September 2017 - December 2017

- Helped local Koreans practice and improve their English
- Demonstrated good interpersonal and language skills

Related Projects

- Created a points of interest wiki for Sinchon, Seoul using MediWiki December 2017
Link here
- Designed a prototype mobile app to improve interface of Korean foreigner registration on proto.io November 2017
Github
- Designed a Rogue-like game in C++ with a group, responsible for creating flexible class structures December 2016
Github

Education

Candidate for Bachelor of Computer Science, Honours, Bioinformatics Option

University of Waterloo, Ontario

September 2015 - Present

- Cumulative Average of 86.4% (3.8 GPA)
- Current term: 4A, Expected Graduation 2020
- Exchange Term in Fall-December 2017 at Yonsei University in Seoul, South Korea
- Relevant Courses: Object-Oriented Software Development, Human Computer Interfaces, Operating Systems, Algorithms, Data Structures and Data Management

Hobbies

- Moderated Humans vs Zombies at University of Waterloo Spring 2017
- Traveling, see places I've been